Guitar plays through the amp, but when I hit the footswitch the check light and tuning bar do not light up. It could be dying and just barely have enough power to come on at first, but not to do anything else. If that doesn't solve it, you've got a defective one and you can go exchange it. If you cut the gain down on your guitar to a minimum needed for the tuner to see it, that should help. If you have an acoustic guitar, the pickups in those are really sensitive to local noise and you may not be able to tune if there is much going on. Guitar input is from right to left, starting with the wah pedal. Tom, 30yr player Answer questions, earn points and help others.
